DESCRIPTION

This architectural branch vase is made of 100% solid bronze, cast by hand using an ancient lost-wax casting technique, used for thousands of years to enable exacting precision and detail, manifested in its clean cylindrical silhouette with a flat-cut rim.

The black patina should be expected to transform over time, giving it its own life and depth of character. Due to the handmade nature of these pieces, no two will be exactly alike, reflecting the touch of the maker.
